

Dr. Boaz Kedar has been department director for Sustainable Planning and Energy in the engineering administration of the Tel Aviv-Jaffa Municipality for the past four years. The Department authors local policy on green building and energy efficiency in new construction, and leads city-wide mitigation and adaptation plans. At present, a municipal mitigation and energy policy is being implemented in jointly with the strategic planning unit.