

Oded Gour-Lavie, retired Rear Admiral and nT-Tao's CEO and Co-founder, served 30 years in the Israel Defense Forces, culminating as Head of Legal & Strategic Policy in the IDF Planning Directorate. He previously led the Sea Division and was the Commander of the Submarine Force. Oded holds a Cum Laude degree in Electrical Engineering from the Technion, an MPA from Harvard Kennedy School, and was a Visiting Fellow at MIT Sloan, studying at the Plasma Science and Fusion Center. He is now on the quest to solve the global energy crisis.