

Ronit Eshel

Senior Director, Head of Climate-Tech and Mature Industry, Israel Innovation Authority

Ronit is leading innovation in the industry, through R&D programs enhancing global competitiveness. Exploring future technologies, to develop evolving industry sectors and establish technological industry in Israel.

As Head of Climate-Tech, Ronit is responsible for setting the strategy, identifying gaps and barriers, and formulating multidisciplinary policy recommendations. Actively engaging with the ecosystem (government offices, private sector, Academia, and companies) to promote Israeli leadership in ground-breaking technologies.

Ronit holds over 25 years of experience in the industry and leadership positions both in Food-Tech and Smart construction ecosystem. She is a director in the executive board of the National Advanced manufacturing institute and the National Food Institute and is promoting global leadership of Israel's Climate-Tech sector.

Mail: ronit.eshel@innovationisrael.org.il