

Noam Ilan

Electreon Wireless - VP business development from 2019. and member of the board of directors 2015- 2018

Noam co- founded in 2011 Capital Nature, the most successful cleantech investment company in Israel - 4 of the company's portfolio companies are currently traded in the Tel Aviv stock exchange, among them Electreon.

In 2006 Noam was co-founder of the Eilat Eilat renewable energy initiative, one of the founding entities of renewable energy in Israel, promoting renewable energy development and implementation as a regional engine for the southern part of Israel. Noam has been also the founder and co-chair of the Eilat -Eilat renewable energy conference, one the leading cleantech conferences in the world

In 1995 Noam co-founded and was the CEO of Cortext Ltd. one of the first Internet related software companies in Israel.

Noam has a BA in business and MA in environmental studies, both from Tel Aviv university.